Open to full-time remote roles | Async-native, adaptable to any fixed time zone (NA, EU, SEA, Japan, India)

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Creator economy and influencer marketing operator with 7+ years across gaming, esports, cosplay, and fandom communities in India and SEA. Runs an independent consulting practice serving Samsung, AMD, Lenovo, Riot Games, Garena, and the Government of India, and has held in-house and contract roles spanning community management, agency campaign delivery, brand management, and business development. Work spans the full activation stack: creator sourcing and negotiation, campaign strategy, contracts, on-ground event production, live commerce, and post-campaign reporting. Samsung India's sole cosplay and creator talent partner from 2024 through 2026, retained through their activation agency without a single re-pitch. Campaigns delivered total 1B+ impressions, 100M+ reach, and 100K+ combined live footfall.

Strongly pro-AI in both mindset and practice: operates LLM tools (Claude, ChatGPT, Gemini) daily across outreach systems, campaign operations, and reporting, and ships production software through AI-assisted development (vibe coding). Currently building a two-sided platform that lets brands discover cosplay talent, negotiate directly, and manage long-term partnerships, now in testing.

PROJECTS

Brand-to-Cosplay-Talent Partnership Platform (in testing)

Two-sided platform that lets brands discover cosplay talent, negotiate directly, and build long-term partnerships rather than one-off deals. Covers talent profiles, discovery, and partnership management. Built solo through AI-assisted development on Next.js 15 and Cloudflare (Workers, D1, R2). Currently in testing.

captaincross.net

Self-built portfolio and campaign archive on Next.js and Cloudflare Workers, serving as the public record of campaigns, service history, and brand affiliations.
